DoCSoc shared an event.

7 March at 13:21 · 🌐

This evening, a Senior Software Engineer from Palantir is pulling back the curtains behind some of the closely guarded technology at Palantir. DoCSoc members will be given an exclusive demo of the tools and methods they deploy at critical government, commercial, and non-profit institutions to solve real world problems using state of the art data fusion and analytical platforms.

This event is highly recommended for anyone interested in big data analytics, and data science in general, as well as anyone interested in getting a sneak peak into Palantir! See you there!

Musical Theatre Society

Introducing the Musical Theatre Society (MTSoc), host of spectacular shows since 1956. Whether you're hungry for an opportunity to dazzle in the spotlight, jump into the pit as part of our incredible band or work behind the scenes with costume, make-up and tech, MTSoc invites you to join us and find your niche in one of the most exciting societies your university has to offer.
